Land Owners and Business Men Plead For Gause Bridge

The commissioners' court of Milam county has before it a petition of property owners and tax payers from the Gause community asking that a bridge be built across Little River to replace the Faubian bridge which collapsed more than a year ago and fell in the river.

The businessmen of Gause, and farmers who own land in Little River bottom west across the stream have for many months been deprived of the advantages such as only a needed bridge and road can give. When this bridge collapsed and the commissioners' court did not decide immediately to replace it, many families were forced to move from their homes out of the bottom adjacent to Branchville because during flood time on Little River they would be cut off from any possible escape. Not only was this true but livestock was endangered as well.

At the time this bridge was lost to the people of that section of Milam county a strong plea was made to the commissioners court asking that this bridge be replaced. At that time the court did not take any action in the matter and from time to time the people of that section of Milam county have appeared before the court to ask for relief.

The Faubian bridge served a large section of Milam county. People living in that vicinity now, to reach Gause, must come to Cameron or go to Hearne. Land owners in Gause and that vicinity who wish to go to their farms must come to Cameron or go to Hearne. The only bridge between Cameron and the mouth of Little River at its juncture with the Brazos is the McLerran bride east of the Country Club. The people of the Gause section as well as many people in Cameron and other parts of the county believe that the attitude of the commissioners' court is unjustified and that the conditions now existing in that section of the county are unwarranted and unjustified. People in Cameron and at Gause as well point out that if the bridge across Little River at Cameron should collapse or wash away the court would take immediate steps to replace it, and would do the same thing for any other section of Milam county.

The court's plea that it has no funds to build this bridge is not seriously taken. An offer has been made to supply the money at a very low rate of interest and besides the county could take advantage of federal government funds in labot and other things.

Looking back over the files of the Herald in 1938 it is interesting to note the claims made by candidates at that time about the splendid financial condition of Milam county. If those statements were made merely for public consumption and had no basis in fact there would be some excuse for the present attitude of the commissioners' court regarding this bridge. The court can build the bridge. Its attitude is not readily understood. The question is being asked why should Gause and all that section of Milam county be discriminated against if Milam County's financial condition is what the candidates claimed it to be in 1938 when they asked the people of Gause community to vote for them. There is no longer any excuse for delaying construction on this bridge, so say many local businessmen and citizens of Gause and other sections of the county. Distribution of the benefits of taxation should be uniform and every candidate for commissioner and county judge promised these things when they were up for election. It is time that these promises were made good. Any government responsible and responsive to the needs of the public is always quick to act in cases of an emergency and certainly the treatment that has been given the people of that section of the county is not a credit to the present county government.

City Begins Clean Up to Rid Town of Health Hazards and Filth Accumulations

Sanitary conditions in the city of Cameron were described as both shameful and dangerous here today as city trucks began the annual haul away from homes and business districts.

Lapse of civic pride and lack of interest by the city government in sanitary conditions in Cameron had brought the town to the verge of disease epidemics, to say nothing of the fly and mosquito plague.

A philosophizing citizen said: "If Cameron escapes the great fly plague of 1939, the world war, the 1925 drouth and the Roosevelt administration will seem only insignificant disasters."

The city street department was doing a good job despite the enormous accumulation of waste materials and unsanitary debris about the homes and in the business section. Some cases of typhoid had been reported before the clean up was announced.

Lack of precautions following a recent big city fire here contributed much to the current fly plague. Public health has been threatened by these conditions and unless the clean up is followed by a systematic control program the city will face a disease hazard.

Escaped Prisoner Thumbing Ride Finds Them to be Officers

Prisoners who escape jail should not try to thumb a ride with officers.

D. P. O'Breen made the mistake of hailing a car occupied by officers this morning on the Ben Arnold highway. O'Breen escaped jail Wednesday night through a hole in the wall, used by former prisoners who tired of the hospitality of the sheriff.

O'Breen had little difficulty in escaping. He was not locked up for the night. The jailer overlooked him when other prisoners were placed in their sells.

Sheriff Kennedy and Deputy McCall arrested O'Breen on the highway this morning at 3 o'clock when he hailed them for a ride. The prisoner offered no resistance but seemed surprised that his would be benefactors on the roadway were officers.

TOM B. JETER FOUND DEAD ON DOORSTEP OF HOME

The body of Thomas Barclay Jeter, 45, native Cameron citizen, was found shortly after 5 o'clock on Friday morning on the steps of the east porch of the T. A. Casy home.

Near the body was found a small caliber rifle from which a shell had been discharged. Jeter lay dead with a bullet hole in his head. Justice of Peace, Womack Brashear, called to hold an inquest, rendered a verdict of suicide. The bullet from the 22 rifle had entered the head over the right ear ranging upward and lodging in the brain.

Mr. Jeter and his family lived in the home with Mr. and Mrs. Casey. On the day before he was found dead, Jeter borrowed the rifle from Sanford Hickman stating that he intended to go squirrel hunting that night or early the next morning. It was said that about 4 a. m. on Friday that Mr. Jeter returned to the apartment occupied by his family and was admitted by his son, Barclay Jeter. He is said to have talked with Mrs. Jeter and Mrs. Casey. After a short time he left the home and went out to the porch. Shortly thereafter the family heard the shot from the small caliber rifle but paid no attntion to it believing that he had accidentally discharged the gun or was shooting for practice. The body was not discovered until some time later when the family arose for the day.

Thomas Barclay Jeter was born and reared in Cameron, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jeter. His father was the founder of the Jeter Lumber Company and he was a half-brother of the late Royal P. Jeter, widely known Cameron businessman and manager of the Jeter Lumber Company.

Funeral services were held from the Jeter residence where surviving members of the family now reside. At 10 o'clock Saturday morning, May 27, Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the First Baptist Church and Rev. Vernon G. Miles of Hillsboro, former pastor here, conducted the services with the Leland Green Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Deceased is survived by his widow the former Miss Dorothy Casey and one son, Barclay Jeter. Survivors in the Jeter family are one half brother, Jeff Jeter of Cameron and four sisters, Mrs. W. O. Newton, Miss Belle Jeter, Miss Lillie Mag Jeter and Miss Mattie Jeter all of Cameron.

Pall bearers were W. O. Newton, Oliver Newton, Roy Jeter, John Jeter, A. J. Triggs and Sanford Hickman.

GREEN & BOEDEKER OPEN FURNITURE STORE

Traditions of service and a courageous outlook for the future have characterized the progress of Green &. Boedeker, Cameron's largest merchandisers, since their recent disastrous fire.

Within the space of two days after the fire the store had opened up for business in the building owned by the Citizens National Bank adjoining the Duke & Ayres store. Stocks were hastily recruited and although the service of the store has not been brought up to the maximum of previous standards, due to lack of space and time, merchandising is going on with increasing service and sales volume.

Leland Green, Sr., of the firm announced today that the Reid building situated on the north side of the court house square between the Coy Arledge Cafe and the Bluebonnet Cafe has been leased and the furniture department of the store will be moved into this building. The firm hopes to be back in their old location in the Chambers building across from the post office as soon as repairs have been made, contract for which has been let. Green & Boedeker recently opened a grocery store in Caldwell which is being directed under the supervision of Herman Boedeker.

CHARLES F. WALSTON BURIED LITTLE RIVER

Charles F. Walston, former jailer here, died suddenly from heart attack on his farm near Norman Valley at 9 a. m. Monday.

Mr. Walston was stricken as he walked along a row of cotton being chopped by laborers on the Baskin Randle Lake Farm early Monday. When friends reached him he showed no signs of life and death was later determined to have been instantaneous.

He was a native of Milam county, born on March 21, 1880 at Branchville. On July 15, 1902 he married Miss Zula Henson who died about 20 years ago. Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. Mary Vaughn, Mrs. Kim Majors and Miss Mildred Walston; two sons, Homer and Virgil Walston. One brother and one sister also survive, William Walston and Mrs. Georgia Davis.

Funeral services were held from the Green Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Little River Cemetery. Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the First Baptist Church, conducted the services.

J. B. Parnell Makes Progress From Long Illness in Cameron

J. B. Parnell, business man and widely known citizen of Cameron, who has been critically ill at his home for several months is now able to be up and to visit his shoe hospital.

Mr. Parnell suffered a weakened heart and body recently when he began a too vigorous diet. Weakened by a too rapid loss of weight his condition became serious. Under constant care of a physician he has regained health sufficient to get about his home and to make short daily visits to his place of business.

Mr. Parnell enjoys a wide acquaintance in the county and is well liked by friends and acquaintances alike. He hopes to be able to resume normal business activities in the near future and to visit with friends over the county.

Mammoth Jaw and Flint Arrow May Be Unusual Archaeological Find; Milam County Is Rich In Fossil Materials Found In Gravel Beds Here

Discovery here on last Wednesday in a gravel pit on the Lamkin farm northeast of Cameron of a complete under jaw section of an Imperial Mammoth (Elephas Antiquus) may be an important development in the local fossil field.

The jaw is that of a young animal with both teeth intact and in fine state of preservation. What may be an important anthropological discovery was the finding of a well shaped arrow point about five feet down in pure stratified gravel and some five feet above the level in the pit from which the Mammoth jaw was taken. The arrow which shows heavy patination appears to be of great antiquity. The surrounding terrain is known to be an old Indian village site. It is possible that the arrow became imbedded in the gravel through the process of erosion. The deposit of gravel in the vicinity appears to be more recent than the average run of deposits in the county. The jaw of the Mammoth was found ten feet below the surface thoroughly imbedded in pure gravel.

The flint arrow is in possession of Curtis Taylor, time keeper on a WPA project which recently developed the opening of the pit for road gravel purposes. Mr. Taylor lives in Bertram in Burnet county but is now receiving his mail at Box 466, Cameron.

It is important to note that within the past one hundred years research workers have been diligently searching for some evidence of man co-extant with the pre-his-

Gravel Pit Discovery May Be Tusk of Now Extinct Mammoth

Word from a well known Texas scientific labratory is being awaited with interest here to define if possible a large tusk appearing cylinder found in the Lamkin gravel pit last week. This tusk appearing object is on display at the Herald office. It is of enormous circumpheral size and is about five feet in length with a curve indicating it may be the fossil remains of tusk of the pre-historic Mammoth or Mastadon.

In appearance this find also resembles the trunk of a small tree but its structure indicates, if this be true, a wood not known to this section.

The tusk was found by a negro laborer on the WPA project now plundering the Lamkin pit for road material. This tusk was found in the same pit from which the under jaw of a Mammoth was taken last week. A much larger tooth of the Mammoth was also found this week in the same pit.

Commissioners' Court Accepts Completed Court House Here

Formal acceptance of the county court house from contractors who recently completed with minor exceptions the $33,000 repair and improvement project was voted by the commissioners' court Monday.

J. E. Johnson, architect and Cecil McClellan of the contracting firm inspected the court house and found the contract had been completed in every way with a few minor exceptions. The contractors agreed to make these additional repairs and will be released from the contract by the court when this work is finished.

F. R. Cromwell for the Public Works Administration also inspected the building

War Risk Insurance Policy Payments Is Basis for Suit

A suit involving $6,000 in War Risk Insurance was being tried in District Court this week when Mrs. Mary E. Baird of Rosebud sought to recover the money from Mrs. Bell Mills, mother of the dead war veteran and late husband of Mrs. Baird.

Mrs. Mills was named administrator of the will of her son whose insurance was to be paid into his estate treasury after the death of his father to whom it had been paid at the rate of $57.50 per month.

William Henry Mills, father of the war veteran, died several years ago and the money accruing under the war risk insurance policy had been paid to his mother, Mrs. Bell Mills. It was said here that Mrs. Baird did not know until recently that the money was being paid to Mrs. Mills.

The suit is brought against Mrs. Baird and her bonding company the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company.

Mrs. Baird is represented by W. A. Morrison and Mrs. Mills is represented by Wallace & Wallace of Cameron.

All evidence had been introduced Wednesday and the case was expected to be reported by the jury on Thursday.

Two Men Charged In Cattle Thefts; One Gets 5 Years, The Other Suspended Sentence; Two Cases Yet To Be Tried Against R. Shuffield

Justice was following queer paths this week when two men, both charged with cattle theft and under grand jury indictments went their separate ways. One path led to Texas prison, the other to a suspended sentence and freedom.

Raymond Shuffield, former resident at Maysfield and now living in Corpus Christi, was given a suspended sentence of two years on recommendation of a jury that found him guilty of stealing a cow.

William Beebe, indicted along with Shuffield, involving the theft of the same cows, three in number from three farmers at Maysfield, was given five years in Texas prison when he entered a plea of guilt two weeks ago.

Two more cases are pending against Shuffield who is to be tried in July unless the cases are dismissed. Shuffield was tried for stealing a cow from R. B. Mayes of Maysfield. Other cases against him are for the theft of cows each from Roy Newton of Maysfield and R. Franklin, a negro.

Sister Follows Sister In School Honors Won For Outstanding Scholarship; Linda and Dorothy Perkins Get Legion Award; One Senior Graduate

Unusual if not unparalleled is the record of two sisters here who have attained the same honors and recognition in their school career. One of them graduated from high school this year and the other graduated from grammar school.

They are Dorothy Perkins, salutatorian of the senior class of Yoe High School and Linda Perkins, valedictorian of Ada Henderson school, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Perkins of Cameron.

Dorothy Perkins moved with her parents to Cameron when a baby less than a year old. She received her elementary and high school education in the Cameron schools. Four years ago she was valedictorian of the 7th grade graduating class of Ada Henderson School and was selected to receive the American Legion medal, the award being based on the following five characteristics: scholarship, character, courage, service and companionship.

In her high school years Dorothy was popular in a number of student activities. She was a member of the public speaking class, a drummer in the famous Yoe High School band and a member of the girl's debating team, the other member being Char-

THE YOES

By
MARY LAKE HENDERSON CULPEPPER

What does the name, C. H. Yoe, mean to you? Several times every day as you pass in and out of this building, you see that name, C. H. Yoe High School, over the entrance. Whenever you approach the front of the building, you pass the bronze likeness of a man and woman, with the name Yoe denoting them. Have they become so commonplace that you pass them without really seeing them? If you think of the Yoes at all, do you regard them as legendary heroes, mere myths of folk lore fame, about whom you have heard a tale or two? Are they just the people on whose account you have a holiday tomorrow?

A particularly bright little girl came home late one afternoon. Her mother asked, "Why are you so late, Marjorie? Were you kept in after school?" "No, mother," she replied, "I stopped to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Yoe. As I came along from school, I looked up and saw them, and they seemed so lonesome there, that I just stopped to talk to them."

Now Marjorie's mother knew Marjorie, who has a nice imagination as well as a tendency to loiter; and Marjorie's mother also knew and appreciated Charlie and Carrie Yoe, so that she was glad Marjorie had lingered to talk with the Yoes. She knew how Mr. and Mrs. Yoe would love to have Marjorie, and you too, to stop and talk to them.

And if you, like Marjorie, did take time to talk to them, what would you say? Of course, you would be far too polite to do all of the talking yourself. Would you ask them to tell you about themselves and about how they came to give you this building?

Charlie Yoe could tell you a tale worth hearing of how he, a lad of 18 years, left his native Germany, not Hitler's Militaristic Nazi land, but the old German Vaterland, from which came some of the finest citizens of our country. Charlie Yoe, at 18 years, made that then perilous ocean voyage from Germany to New York, and later from New York down to Galveston. Leaving Galveston on a freight train with no fixed destination in mind, he got off at the village of Cameron, and lived there or close by for the rest of his life. Working at small jobs at first, he became one of the leading merchants of the country, and by hard work and thrift amassed, what was regarded in his days as a great fortune in Milam County.

Carrie Meyers Yoe could supplement that tale by the story of young girl born of good German parentage, right here in Cameron. Born here February 8, 1880 she claimed to have been the first white child born in Cameron, Texas. Carrie Meyers learned home economics in her mother's kitchen, and got some first hand lessons in agriculture on her father's farm. She picked up some schooling and became a teacher for a little while. And then, when she was just ready for romance, she met Charlie Yoe. There is a story that she prayed to the Lord to send her a husband and that Charlie Yoe came to Milam County in answer to a maiden's prayer. At any rate, their marriage was heaven blessed to them, for they were one of the most loyal and loving couples in all Milam County history. Those who can remember them, almost never saw one without the other as long as they both lived. And when Charlie Yoe died first, Carrie Yoe went with him down the walk of their home, the present Sprott residence, and took that last long ride to Oak Hill cemetery in the hearse along with her husband. She had always been with him when he rode away from their home, and she could not let him ride away at last without her. In fitlial devotion, industry, and upright conduct these two were unsurpassed. Their married life was a beautiful idyl. One great sorrow came to them; their only child, Laura, died when she was five years old. Perhaps it was this which made them love all children. And thus, this old childless couple, who had lived so simply, even meagerly, but who, by hard work had prospered plentifully, sought at life's end to do something for the children of the Community in which they had lived their combined lives.

They talked of many things they would like to do for the people here. They spoke of building a hospital or a church, of doing this or that; and finally they hit upon an idea that pleased them both. They would build a school house, for a school house, well constructed, would endure for years, and here in America, where education is free, it would serve, not merely the sick, as would a hospital, or one denomination, as would a church, but it would serve all of the children of Cameron and Milam County for all time. Here the children, and their children's children could learn to be free of ignorance; here they could learn to be good citizens.

Happy at last in their choice of a gift to their fellow men, these thrifty German folk decided that the building would be a memorial to whichever one should die first. Named for that one, it should be the duty of the one left behind to build and equip it and to donate it to the school children of Cameron.

Charlie Yoe died first (about 4 1-2 years before his wife) and so Carrie Yoe, true to her agreement, built and presented this building, in his name, to you and to your parents before you and to your children after you—yours for all time!

This is the simple story the Yoes could tell you of how they lived, and wrought, and how they came to leave this building here.

So that you might know these things, and properly understand them, Mrs. Yoe requested that a memorial day be set aside as 'Yoe Day," with fitting exercises in honor of her husband. And, showing that though she valued learning, she also wanted to make children happy, she asked that, following the exercises, you be given a holiday from school work.

So you can thank Carrie Yoe tomorrow for your holiday, and every school day, you can thank the C. H. Yoes for this building.

Their gift may seem small and inadequate to you now, when you see millions being spent so lavishly for public buildings. But when this groud was purchased and this school was built here, it was considered as fine a school property as could be had in Texas. It was presented at a time when Cameron Schools were cramped for space, and when Cameron funds were utterly inadequate for any building purpose.

The erection of this building really marked the beginning of a new era in Cameron Schools. It meant that Cameron had fitting quarters from which to teach its young citizens.

Will you, like Marjorie, stop and talk to Mr. and Mrs. Yoe? Think of them as real people and as friends? Tell them that you respect their thrift, and admire their desire to share their hard earned wealth? Tell them that you appreciate your school building and that you value the opportunity they offered you to enter and learn? Perhaps like them, you too, may some day go forth to serve.

HIGHWAY DELEGATION GOES TO WACO

A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce Highway 77 Association left Thursday morning for Waco to take part in the annual meeting of this association.

The meeting is being held in the Chamber of Commerce building in Waco and representatives from like associations in counties through which Highway 77 runs will be present to take part.

At this meeting a program for the ensuing year will be outlined and a schedule looking toward the completion of the highway will be set up.

Those to go from Cameron are F. G. Blake, chairman of the committee; F. E. Woodruff, president of the Chamber of Commerce; E. B. Camp, past president, W. F. Paden, manager; R. G. Grabein, vice president; L. F. Gohmert, F. J. Beckerman and Conn Isaacs, county auditor.

Mrs. R. R. Asbury of Houston visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Turner, Sr., over the week end and attended the graduation exercises of Yoe High School.

Former Yoe High Football Star Is Commencement Visitor

Louie Turner, former high school student, and a member of the regional championship football team of 1936 and now with the United Employers' Casulty Company in Houston, was in Cameron for the graduation exercises to see his sister, Miss Lucy Turner graduate.

Louie is one of the most popular boys to have graduated from Yoe High and tells an interesting story of his experience in Houston where he has had employment since his graduation in the spring of 1937. He is now playing baseball on his company team and the team is leading the city league. On the team are three Cameron boys: Taylor Moore, Shirley McLean and Louie Turner.

Many former Cameron citizens are now living in Houston and the Cameron Herald goes to practically all of these addresses. Louie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Turner, Sr., of Cameron. He returned to Houston on Monday night after the graduation exercises here.

137 PLACEMENTS BY EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

A total of 139 placements were made by the Texas State Employment Service in Cameron during April, according to the report of R. C. Moody, local manager, who went on to say that there were 53 new applications for work made at the office.

The filing of claims for unemployment compensation continues to be one of the major activities of the employment office, where 179 initial claims, and 269 continued claims for benefits were filed last month. Claimants now receiving job insurance checks are reporting each week at the employment office in an effort to find work before their benefits are used up.

More than 50 firm visits were made to local employers within the last thirty days by representatives of the Service in an effort to locate job openings for qualified applicants and to request employers to refer applicants seeking work to the employment office at 206 North Central Avenue.

HOLLYWOOD CLOSE UPS

By HOPE HARROLD
Special Correspondent for THE CAMERON HERALD

So Barbara kept her promise and the sun shone on Robert. After Barbara Stanwyck's ideal marriage to Frank Fay crashed, she blamed it on marriage itself, and told the world that she would never marry again. After two devoted years, Robert Taylor has finally succeeded in making Barbara change her mind. To her insistence that he was much younger, that their careers were uncertain, and that she had her adopted son to think of, he turned a deaf ear. Finally, Barbara told him to go to New York for one final fling, and if he still felt the same when he returned, she promised to marry him. After said fling, his love more constant than ever, there was nothing for Barbara to do but to marry him. This she did in San Diego the other day. And, alas, another of our leading stars has succumbed to Cupid!

"Who's Who in Hollywood, has just been decided by a poll of 30 Hollywood correspondents — those who live closest to the stars, who write about them constantly, men and women who really know 'Who's Who." The poll was taken in secret, but the results have leaked out, and here they are:

Best actor and actress: Paul Muni and Bettie Davis.

Most sex appeal: Charles Boyer and Ann Sheridan.

Handsomest: Gary Cooper.

Most Beautiful: Hedy L. Marr.

Worst Dressed: Bing Crosby and Luise Rainer.

Least liked: Nelson Eddy and Joan Crawford.

A surprising division of votes featured most of these selections, but one choice was overwhelming—23 to 3—in favor of the "best actress"—Bette Davis.

And this is just one source from which Bette Davis has received such acknowledgment. On every side one hears her hailed as: "First actress of the screen" and "Hollywood's ablest actress," and it seems there is not even a close second to challenge her position. From her first "bit" role—a high school girl in "Seed" in 1931—critics universally have recognized her ability until last year she finally achieved the unique distinction of twice winning the Academy Award—"Dangerous" in 1935 and "Jezebel" in 1938—an accomplishment of which only one other woman—Luise Rainer—can boast.

The secret of Bette Davis' success is her genius at acting unpleasant roles that other Hollywood stars abhor. She went magnificently bad in 'Of Human Bondage," blind in "Dark Victory" and now insane in "Juarez." Bette says that her most difficult problem of acting was her loss of sight in 'Dark Victory." Her method: "Driving home at dusk, I'd pretend it was really daylight and I was going blind and I'd try to look just as far as I could into the darkness." In this moving drama she plucks every heartstring. While she works on such tragic roles, she never seems to think about the characterizations, as she knits between scenes. With the releases of "Dark Victory and 'Juarez" she definitely estblishes herself as a likely winner of a third Academy honor.

FACTS FAVOR FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range — and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.

2 The structural strength of the Ford car — frame, bracing, axles, body — makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.

These four points — power, strength, safety, comfort — are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see — quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

Proclamation

City Clean Up Week

In observance of the annual clean-up week for Cameron during which time citizens and the city government co-operate to achieve a greater degree of civil improvement, I respectfully call the attention of the entire citizenship and home owners to clean-up week which begins in the city on Monday, May 29, and continuing for one week.

The City of Cameron will as has been the practice for a number of years, place at the disposal of the citizens city trucks to haul away all trash and refuse. All cans, trash and rubbish should be placed in containers and left at a convenient place so the trucks may pick it up and haul to the dump grounds. In this way clean-up week can be very effective and the city government respectfully requests all citizens to co-operate.

In addition to clean-up week I respectfully call your attention to the season of the year when mosquitoes are more prevalent. During the week we urge that you make rigid inspection of your premises, drain all cans and containers where water may have fallen from recent rains, and see that all ditches and water holes are drained. In cases where drainage cannot be had, consult the city health officer for methods of disinfecting and killing mosquitoes.

Health conditions will be improved and our city will be a better place in which to live if you will give us your wholehearted co-operation.

CHARLES C. SMITH
Mayor City of Cameron.

Along Commercial Row

Commercial Row features a first class food sale this week in the announcement of Whatley's Grocery. The Whatley Grocery returns to the Herald to send a message of good will and lower food prices to the great family of readers. Of especial interest in this sale is the quotations on Fruit. At this season of the year fruit is difficult to obtain and it is of more than passing interest to note that the Whatley Grocery has so well succeeded in providing fine fruits for this sale. Prices on these items were not obtained until 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon but the Herald plant issued the advertising material for distribution on Thursday night. Mr. Whatley says he does not like to advertise unless he can give the people something unusual for their money.

Mr. Thomas said he was very much pleased with the results he was obtaining on an advertisement featuring graduating gifts run in this newspaper in its last issue. He said a certain good patron of the store told him she wanted a nice graduation gift and she would not hame come to his store to make her purchase except for having seen his advertisement in the Herald. CARDUI'S remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

Negro Pays Fine For Operating Beer Saloon Without License in Cameron

Texas Liquor Control Board officers continued to punish liquor law violators in Cameron this week when they arrested W. C. Hardin, a Marlin negro, charged with selling beer without license.

Mead Miller, operative for the Board of Control and Constable B. F. Bailey, made the arrest, placing the negro in jail. On a plea of guilt he was fined $54.25 and has been released.

It was revealed that the negro was not eligible to operate here because he was not a resident. The beer saloon had been operated by Fred Gordon who had turned the building back to the owner, E. L. Kahler.

The Marlin negro had been operating the saloon for about two weeks and Gordon said he did not know the business was in operation as he had planned to re-open this fall.

Constable Bailey became suspicious and called Mr. Miller to investigate.

106 SENIORS RECEIVE GRADUATION DIPLOMAS

106 seniors received diplomas of graduation from Yoe High School on Monday night when exercises were held on the athletic field with a large audience from the various communities of the county and other sections of the state.

The address of the evening was given by Dr. Edmund Heinsohn, pastor of University Methodist Church of Austin who talked to the class about finding their place in world of today. Dr. Heinshon said people could be classified into three groups, faddists, fossils and finders. He discussed at length the characteristics of each and urged individuals of the graduating class to dilligently seek to place themselves in the class with the finders.

Appropriate and educational talks were given by Harold Pressley, valedictorian and Dorothy Perkins, salutatorian, both of whom discussed certain phases of modern day problems and how they could best be solved.

Scholarships and awards were made to forty students by W. C. Wiese, principal of Yoe High School and J. C. Martin, president of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas as the seniors were called to the speakers stand.

The class marched from the athletic field in single file as the Yoe High School band under the direction of Francis Cox played Tannhauser by Wagner.

BEN ARNOLD 4-H CLUB

"To make a bedroom gay and appear beautiful, there should be flowers and pot plants in it," says Mrs. J. A, Henderson, 4-H sponsor, when the Ben Arnold Club met May 18th at the Methodist church.

Flowers should be arranged correctly and should be in the correct vase, before the flowers are attractive. Do not use a beautiful bowl to put the flowers in, or the people will look at the bowl instead of the flowers.

If in your home you do not have a frog for the flowers use a potato punched full of holes.

Present Day Ways of Life We're Asked to Accept Not Becoming to Civilization We have Wrought, Says Perrin in Lions Memorial Day Address

E. A. Perrin, member of the local Legion Post, addressed the Cameron Lions Club Tuesday as the Guest speaker for the Cameron Lions speaker for the Memorial Day service given by the American Legion. Mr. Perrin trained at Camp Mc-McArthur, Waco and was enlisted in the Infantry Training and Replacement Camp.

Lions were impressed by the solemn thoughts contained in the address which was a review of present world conditions and national economic stress. The speaker made a plea for the war dead, urging a more unselfish and patriotic approach to the solution of problems that threaten the social order for which these men died.

He told the Lions that present day philosophies we are asked to accept as a way of life are not becoming the civilization which we have achieved. Spending sprees, destruction of crops, annihilation of live stock, etc., cannot possibly be the sensible approach to a proper philosophy of living. He concluded his address with a call to genuine patriotism, industrious living, and Godly aspirations.

President Wiese announced to the Lions that Dorothy Jeane Lewis of Buckholts was the winner of the Lions Club Achievement Trophy offered to the student of Yoe High School who had made the outstanding record of attendance upon the local institution. The winner traveled on bus for fifteen miles every day to attend the Yoe High School for four years. She was neither absent nor tardy in the seven years prior to her high school career.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Plans for the revival meeting which begins on June 18, are taking on more interesting proportions. Attendance and interest at the midweek prayer services have been on the increase for several weeks and the visitation committees have been doing diligent and effective work. The pastor and congregation of the First Methodist Church sincerely covet the sympathy and the prayers of all Christians of our town. And to our Brothers, the Pastors of the various churches of our city, and to your congregations, we extend a cordial welcome to all services and invite your co-operation to the end that our common Lord and Savior may be glorified by the bringing of many souls into his kingdom.

A. J. McCary, Minister.

Mrs. Syd Stidham and daughter, Sidney Jean of Houston, came up to attend the graduation of Charlotte Stidham who was a member of the graduation class this year, and was one of the ten honor students of the class. Miss Stidham intends to take a commercial course at Houston this fall.

Strolling musicians who wander about Treasure Island and entertain wherever they go with song and dance as well as instrumental music, add a touch of romance at the glamorous California World's Fair. Every day they serenade visitors in the group of state and county buildings, Jose Gomez (left) on the guitar, and Rita Cavaleri in song.

New Deal Failure Evident to All

Mr. Roosevelts speech before the national forum of the American Retail federation was in the vein of a hard-pressed adversary adopting tactics of offense as the best defense.

The president described as "the wildest-eyed radicals in our midst" those who think government spending ought to be within the revenues of the gorevnment.

He said he and those who agree with him that unlimited spending and borrowing and taxation are sound "are the conservatives because we simply cannot bring ourselves to take radical chances with other people's property and other people's lives."

That is like saying a man who lives within his own wage and saves a portion of it for the security of his family is "radical," and a man who squanders his own substance and lives thereafter on the bounty of his friends is "conservative."

Mr. Roosevelt is a very disappointed and desperate man.

He has been frustrated in his one great ambition, to be known as the leader who restored prosperity to his country.

His frustration, however, is not the work of his enemies.

Why should Mr. Roosevelt be so much concerned about his "enemies" and heap such invective upon them, when they have intruded upon him so little, and deprived him of so few powers he sought, and prevented the attempting of so few things he sought to do?

He has not failed because the people would not support him, for he has had the nation preponderantly behind him in two presidential elections.

He has not failed because the congress would not support him, for with few exceptions congress has authorized all his schemes, and made lavish appropriations according to his demand, and has taxed the nation to the full limits he insisted upon, and has consented to the borrowing he thought necessary.

Let it be remembered that Mr. Roosevelt is not a bright-eyed newcomer to our national scene, with schemes that have never been tried.

He has been on the job more than six years.

He has been permitted to try nearly everything he wanted to try, and has been allowed to experiment with nearly every means and method of bringing about national recovery that won his favor.

His failure is The Failure of his own schemes and program.

Whether he prefers to call himself radical or conservative, he has failed to do what he set out to do.

Whether his program and policies are radical or conservative, THEY HAVE NOT PRODUCED RECOVERY AND PROSPERITY.

The people are sorry for Mr. Roosevelt but more sorry for themselves, because his failure has cost them a tremendous amount of money.

Perhaps the people should not even blame Mr. Roosevelt, but should blame themselves—because they did not have to elect him in the first place and did not have to reelect him after four years of failure and did not have to elect new congresses every two years that would do his bidding.

But now the people have to decide between continuing to let Mr. Roosevelt look out for them and LOOKING OUT FOR THEMSELVES.

They are not judging him by what his enemies say of him, but BY What He HAS DONE.

He is on the carpet, not before his enemies, but BEFORE THE PEOPLE.

He is not accounting to enemies, but TO HIS FRIENDS.

This nation is now confronted, as Mr. Rossevelt has so often said, not by a theory but by a FACT.

That fact is that new deal spending, borrowing and taxation have not ended the depression but have deepened and prolonged it—and that would still be a fact if Mr. Roosevelt had not a single enemy in the country to raise a voice against him.

Mammoth

toric Mammoth and other extinct species of the glacial period. No find of the nature related above is given any credit unless photographs are taken and at least three witnesses certify to the discovery. It should be readily understood that to find a flint implement or any other evidence of man's work in the same strata of earth where fossil remains of Mammoths are found, would be an important indication of the age of man. The Mammoth jaw is on exhibition at the museum of the Cameron Herald.

The Mammoth is an extinct fossil elephant known to the glacial and post-glacial periods. In size and appearance it differs little from the well known circus elephant, although of considerably larger statue. The Mammoth had a thick covering of dark brown hair. A large number of Mammoth skeletons have been unearthed in Europe but chiefly in north Siberia and on the Arctic coast where they have been preserved in the frozen soil. The tusks of Mammoths are sometimes more than 12 feel long.

So far as the Herald knows no discovery on the North American continent has been made to prove the existence of the Mammoth and man in the same age. A trail of fossil remains of the Mammoth have been found beginning on the Asiatic continent over a long trail through the Berring Straits and into the United States, through Mexico, Central and South America. The Mammoth was pronouncedly migratory and differed somewhat in this respect to the well known circus elephant, who so far as known has never migrated from the place of his origin in Asia.

Milam county gravel deposits are rich in fossil finds. Chief among the important discoveries within recent years have been Pliocene horse. Teeth and fossil remains of the Pliocene horse from Milam county are on exhibition in a number of American and European museums. These discoveries are invaluable to the pupil in the study of natural history and many men of science have marvelled at the indifference of Texas people to the important, archaeological and other related materials to be found within the varied soil of this state.

The jaw and teeth of the Mammoth were found by Will Gjedde of Cameron and have been placed with the Herald for exhibit purposes and for possible transfer to a Texas museum.

The annual rally of the Waco Federation of Evangelical Women's Union was held on Wednesday, May 2, at St. Paul's Evangelical Church in Marlin. Miller, Gus Pimpler, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Kalkbrenner, and Mesdames Kosel, Mable Boecker, Elsie Colling, Lillie Rummel, Alma Miller, Gussie Kosel, Lillie Birkelmayer, Gussie Schulz, Lillie Boecker and Lydia Senkel.

Are You A Safe Driver?

The old question of who should drive the family auto can be settled without further argument in the Aetna "auto laboratory" at the California World's Fair, with a series of driving tests providing accurate estimate of ability. Here Miss Rosalind O'Connor takes a test on the "Reactometer" with pictures on a moving screen giving cause to ease off the accelerator and tramp on the brake quickly. An electric recording shows speed of reaction in one of a series of tests. All Fair goers are invited to take the test.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, June 4.

The Golden Text is : "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved" (Psalms 93:1.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord: . . For the kingdom is the Lord's and he is the governor among the nations" (Psamls 22:27, 28.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us rid ourselves of the belief that man is separated from God, and obey only the divine Principle, Life and Love. Here is the great point of departure for all true spiritual growth" (page 91.)

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Manuel B. Hartley, minister of the Church of Christ, announces that Irvin B. McFadin of Taylor will begin a meeting here Sunday, June 4. Services will be held each night at 8:15 p. m. The meeting is to continue for one week. The public is urged to attend these services.

LUNCHERON HELD HERE FOR MILAM FARMERS

Some sixty-five or seventy committeemen, farmers, business men and others were present at a luncheon held May 18th at Mrs. Cato's Cafe in Cameron. Mr. Watson, member of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee and Lester Young, Assistant Field Officer of College Station, were present and gave very interesting and enlightening explanations of the financial side of the AAA work.

Mr. Watson re-viewed the amount of money Milam County farmers have received since 1933 in the form of Soil Conservation, Parity, and Subsidy payments. According to figures Milam County has received something over $3,000,000 since '33. He also said that the farmers in Milam County will have received better than $1,000,000 in 1937 Subsidy payments and 1938 Soil Conservation payments.

Mr. Watson urged the business men and committeemen to encourage the farmers to earn every soil-building unit possible, in connection with the program. The most encouraging thing that Mr. Watson gave, was that the State Committee are trying to get the National Office to start paying producers at the time that they have earned their full soil-building allowance. If they are successful, it will mean that farmers who have planted within their allotment, and have earned their entire soil-building payment may make application for their money and receive it much earlier than heretofore.

W. I Chenault, Field Supervisor of District Eight, was also present. He assisted in the School of Instructions given to committeemen and superivsiors, in connection with the 1939 performance.

The next luncheon will be held on the third Thursday in June. Any business men or farmers interested in attending this luncheon will please contact Goerge T. Graves or George Banzhaf at the County Agent's Office.

lotte Stidham. The team won first place in county and district divisions of the Interscholastic League Meet this year.

Dorothy will attend George Washington University in Washington, D. C., this fall where she plans to study journalism. She likes to write and has been said by her teachers to show ability in this type of study. She is an intelligent speaker and presents her subject in such a way as to keep her audience interested and attentive. For her salutatory address in the commencement exercises held here on Monday night she chose to discuss the "Good Neighbor Policy."

Dorothy has been selected one of the four students of Yoe High School as an outstanding student in the "Who's Who" publication of Texas high school students.

Linda Perkins, thirteen year old sister of Dorothy, kept up the traditions of the family when she too became valedictorian of her class in the Ada Henderson school.

Linda has chosen for her chief devotion the study of school music. She directed the choral singing of Ada Henderson school this year, which won first place among the ward schools of this district in the annual Interscholastic League Meet. She has also represented her school in picture memory, spelling and arithmetic in addition to choral singing, winning honors in many instances.

Like her sister, Linda also received the American Legion award based on outstanding characteristics of a student. Next year she will be a freshman in Yoe High School and plans to work toward being valedictorian when she graduates four years later. She will be a member of the Yoe High School band and will devote much of her time to school music.
